HOMEcoming '81

After a week of high spirits and being rowdy, it was time for the big game with Madison Grant. The Titans performed well in the first half, but they went to the locker room down by 21.

The half-time festivities offset the problems on the field. Senior Pam Hodge was crowned Homecoming queen. Her court included seniors Jill Westerfield, and Dixie Bayliff; the junior representative, Jenny Gotshall; from the sophomore class, Teresa Stahl, and representing the freshmen class, Tina Brack.

When the Titans returned to the field, they fought hard but they could not match the Argyles. Following the game the dance music was provided by Middle of the Road.

TITAN SURVEY

We picked twenty-four topics that we thought would interest students the most. We got a lot of surprise winners, but some of the best answers were ones that did not win. In the category of favorite sport heroes, Bruce Jenner had no problem defeating a number of other athletes including the infamous Ron Gamble. One critic of fine restaurants chose the good ole THS cafe as his favorite place to fine dine. The overwhelming winner in the car category was the Corvette, but I'd like to congratulate a certain student for being the only one to spell Lamborghini right! Perhaps the most unique responses identified Charles Manson as a favorite comedian with Lizzy Borden as comedienne, and DEEP THROAT as a favorite movie. We learned that lasagne can be spelled almost any way imaginable and still be recognized as that delicacy by us. Lazzna? Lasonya? Or maybe even "stake" anyone?

1. T.V. Show — M.A.S.H.

2. Movie — RAIDERS OF THE LOST ARK

3. Actor — Clint Eastwood

4. Actress — Stephen Powers

5. Sex Symbol (m) — Tom Selleck

▼ Ron Gamble decided to trade in the Hornet for this.

▲ We now have photographic proof of Libian hit men at THS.

6. Sex Symbol (f) — Brooke Shields

7. Comedian — Richard Pryor

▼ If you had Mrs. Deason two hours a day you'd look like this too!

- 8. Comedienne — Gilda Radner
- 9. Music Group — Journey
- 10. Singer — Rick Springfield
- 11. Hit Single — Urgent

Sounds of Music

The band with new uniforms marched on to one of their best years. They marched in the Tipton Pork Parade and captured a first place in show and inspection at the Lewis Cass band contest.

The Swing Choir, "The Good Time Music Company", performed at several restaurants. Among them were Montes, The Elks, and Western Sizzlers.

... AND A DO-SI-DO

First Ever Sadies

Jeans & straw, jail, moonshine, and gettin' married were all a part of Taylor's first ... (annual??) Sadie Hawkins dance. This girls ask guys (and pay the expenses) dance motif replaced the traditional formal winter dance. Most seemed to approve of the "all in fun" activities and square dancing.

The evening was highlighted by the crowning of Dixie Bayliff as Miss Titan. Her court consisted of Cathleen Stewart, Leslie Harland, Barb Lamb, and Jill Westerfield.

We Got It

4,3,2,1 . . . And the Taylor Titans are the 1982 MIC champs!! Confetti flew & fans screamed. It's a great feeling when you give it all you have and come out on top.

That is what the varsity boys' basketball team did this year. The Titan team made going to basketball games worthwhile. Thanks for the feeling of victory and for the effort you put forth in getting the MIC title.

We are very proud of each one of you; thanks for the memories.

Loads of Spirit Shown During Homecoming Week.

The Titans showed an over abundance of spirit during homecoming week by dressing up to a different theme each day.

Cowboy Day, Sports Day, Powder Puff Day, Red & Black Day and the new wild-n-crazy Punk Rock day. Each were a lot of fun and had many students and teachers caught up in the excitement of the activities that week.

-  Moto-cross Khristin Sisk
-  Pam and Leslie Punk rockers???
-  Terry, what tribe are you from???

...GOOD

▲ Acting like building blocks. Our seniors and juniors really stack up to make a really nice pyramid.

◄ Do you see yourself? Taylor high pep sessions get our gang rowdy.

PEP SESSIONS

▲ The pie-eating contest. Little do our administrators know that they are going to get a pie in the face!!!

▼ The 1982 wagon judging contest. The seniors Madison Grant rescue squad won

SPIRIT

We'll never forget the two crazy gals who livened up those pep sessions or a boring class, Carrie and Chrissy Abner.

Their spirit was hard to replace and we're proud that they represented our school before Florida's gain was our loss.

SPIRIT STICK — The annual spirit stick award went to the class with the most spirit, which this year was the sophomore class.

▼ Rozan Rozanna Danna and Jane Curtain???? Nope, just Holly Martin and Tina Amerman.

DYNAMIC

▲ "We're from Mars, and we want something big (spirit). No other than the Abner sisters.

▲ Playing "The Victors" (our school song), the ever peppy Pep Band.

▼ "Come on down, tennis team. The recognition was due. They deserved the cheers at the pep session.

It's A Success!!!

"The Taylor High School Student Council proudly presents the 1982 Spring Follies at the Paradise Theater."

So began this year's annual Spring Follies which has traditionally featured some of Taylor's finest talent. The audience this year was well entertained by ten acts ranging from a band playing "The Stripper" to an outstanding magician, Rodney Boyd. Between acts, the audience was warmed up very ably by the M.C.'s Pat Norris and Donna Freeman who really "hammed it up."

▲ "One" (singular sensation) sings the Good Time Music Company at the Paradise Theater.

◀ More magic with junior Rodney Boyd. He's the only person I know who sticks long pins through balloons and they don't burst. It's magic!

The always-supportive audience.

Four Aggressive Teams Two Very Close Games

In a defensive battle, the "Senior Punch" team, coached by Mr. Edmonds, handed Mr. Harshman's "Junior Delinquents" their first loss on a frosty, October seventh evening. The strong defense on both teams resulted in the one touchdown scored by the senior Yolandia Shelton. The seniors end with a 2-2 powder puff record and the juniors are now 2-1.

In the first game, freshman girls came from behind to defeat the strong offensive effort from the sophomore team coached by Dr. Bush which dominated first half play by a score of 12-0 after touchdowns made by Shelly Welke and Jan Sturtz. In the final half, "Gary's Go Fors", the enthusiastic freshmen, coached by Mr. Atkins, charged ahead in two quick touchdowns and extra points scored by Penny Hinders and Lisa Barret. The strong offense by both teams was the key to the game that ended in a 14-12 freshman victory.

Burrrr!!!! Juniors Karen Horn, Angie Buckner, Karen Horn and Tammy DeBusk, shiver on the sideline during that frosty October evening.

The juniors and seniors (and dates) of Taylor High School who attended the prom "Sailed On" making steady progress across Lake Freeman under ideal Indiana spring conditions. The three hour excursion took place April 24, 1982, near Monticello, Indiana.

The dance music was provided by Slyde. Most in attendance agreed that the location made this year's prom a unique and pleasant experience. During a break, senior wills were read and prophecies made for the future. Finally, the awaited moment arrived, the crowning of the King and queen, not too surprisingly, the couple voted cutest by the senior class won — Jill Westerfield, Queen and Randy Ingels, King. Those remaining in the court were Cathleen Stewart, Jon Meadors, Leslie Harland, Jim Hillisheim, Barb Lamb, Brian Roberts, Carlotte Curry and Ron Gamble. The Prom pictures were taken by Russel Beck. It was a night to remember.

SENIORS

Seniors Randy Ingels and Kevin Swain don't know quite what to do with this kind of girls.

Romeo (Donna Freeman) romances Juliet (Pam Hodge), "Where art thou."

This year at the senior convo there was a slumber party done to "Wake Up Little Suzy."

LAST DAYS!

Senior Mark Fulkerson displays his black belt in karate by breaking bricks.

The last week of school was very busy for the graduates-to-be. This was to be THEIR week. Yet there were still final tests to take, the grades to be decided, and tardies and absences to be checked for exemption from exams, there to complicate matters.

The week started out great with the dress up days to participate in. Wednesday was Leadership Day; the seniors were in charge of the school. This was the day they had been waiting for. They could finally be the ones to make the decisions.

Friday came with excitement for everyone. The last day ever for the seniors to attend Taylor High School had finally arrived. The Senior Convo was a success with Mark Fulkerson's karate exhibition being the highlight. The week ended with many of the seniors traveling to Kings Island for Senior Grad Nite.

Senior Class Officers: Sec., Pam Hodge, Pres., Barb Lamb, Treasurer, Jill Westerfield, and V. Pres., Charlotte Curry.

Lora Miller, Kim Irick, and Donna Freeman are singing in the rain.

★★★THE FINAL FLING★★★

Chemlawn strikes again.

After graduation, the seniors went to the YWCA to spend all night saying good-bye to their friends and celebrating.

There were many activities to participate in. A disc jockey from WZWZ 93 provided music to dance by and prizes for the best dancers. Swimming, playing basketball, playing cards, and pigging out on pizza, snacks, and cokes filled the night. Door prizes were given to everyone.

The next morning many of the graduates met at Denny's to finish the day at breakfast.

Although this may have seemed like the end, it is only the beginning of a new and exciting life. And we, the class of 1982, will CONQUER.

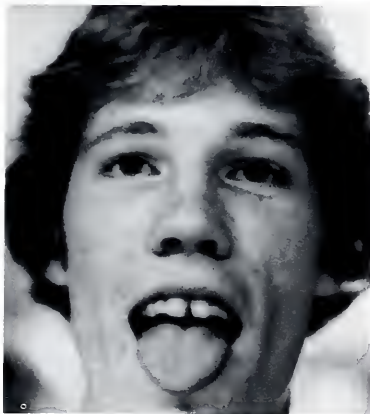

Seniors rest their feet after dancing the night away.

The end had finally arrived. It was May 23rd and the 1982 seniors, who had managed to make it though the years, were ready for their finale.

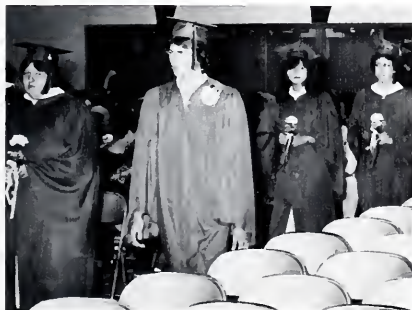

This was a day for mixed emotions. While listening to the speeches from the Valedictorian, Kim Irick; Salutatorian, Leslie Harland; and Class Speaker, Cathleen Stewart, the seniors reflected on all the times they were leaving behind. But still, the future beckoned with many new and interesting challenges yet to be met and conquered.

Afterwards, the seniors were congratulated by friends and family who celebrated the joys and nostalgia of the occasion. The end had arrived, and all the seniors had survived.

82 Sports

As I sit in my seat, surrounded by people, I find myself growing more nervous. It had never really mattered that much to me whether we won a basketball game or not, but this year is different. I just couldn't help getting caught up in the excitement of the Titan's winning season.

It was the last period of the Taylor-Eastbrook game and we were down by one. Brian Roberts shot one in to give us the lead 52-51. We held on to this lead, as the excitement really began to build. With 2:17 to go, the score tied. I didn't know if I could stand to watch anymore.

Ten seconds left and Jim Hille-shiem shoots from the corner; he misses. But wait, there's a foul called and Jeff Brock gets to shoot. Oh come on Jeff, you can do it! The Taylor crowd grows still; all eyes are fixed on Jeff. He pauses, takes a deep breath and shoots. The ball seems to be taking forever to reach the hoop, but at last it reaches it ... and it goes in! I don't believe it! It must be true though because all the Taylor fans are going crazy. The next one makes it in, too. We're two points ahead and the MID-INDIANA CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS!

No longer will we feel put down by other schools. At last, we've gained the glory that we have longed deserved. I believe the real story of this night could have been told by the smiles on the fans' faces.

TENNIS

FIRST BOYS SECTIONAL

This is a story of the road to the regionals. The dream originated five years ago when two spindly jr. high kids, Jim Hilleshiem and Dave Cassis, asked to practice with the varsity team. Seeing their eagerness to succeed, Mr. Wise agreed. This idea was strengthened the following year when a freshman by the name of Ron Gamble, tried out for the team. Showing immediate talent, he moved up to the varsity, playing #2 doubles. These three made up the foundation for the 1982 team.

The #1, #2 and #3 players retained their positions respectively, the former #2 doubles team moved up to fill the #1 doubles spot. This left only one spot to be filled. This position was filled by P.T. Chaffee and Larry Wiechman who just couldn't seem to go wrong.

At the start of the season the team got together and set two goals. The first, to go undefeated, and secondly, to win the sectional. They accomplished these with style. Ron, Jim, Dave, P.T. and Larry all went undefeated during the regular season. They started the sectional off with a victory over country rival Western advancing to the semi-finals against Noblesville which they easily overpowered. They then met Frankfort for the title in which the Titans had a narrow victory of 3-2 to advance to the regionals where they were opposed by eventual and returning state champs Carmel. The Titans fell to a 6-0 loss as channels 13 and 6 watched on, and an unforgettable season ended.

Senior Ron Gamble, Most Valuable Player, is in a world by himself.

Cross Country

Dan Hansen Wins Regional

Even though the final season's record was 8-5, major accomplishments were not uncommon to this year's cross country team. MVP, Dan Hansen, not only took a first place at the sectional, allowing the Titan trotters to place third, he qualified and won at the regional — a great triumph for him and the team.

As in most sports, injuries played an important part in the season. This was definitely a problem for the team this year. Bill Mason, suffering a wrist injury, missed two weeks of training and racing. Mike Harmon had to miss the last part of the season due to a hip injury. We hope they will be totally recovered and ready to run for next year.

With Dan Hansen and other fellow seniors leading a team of ambitious runners, the Helio sport's staff and other C-C fans look forward to another great cross country season. Good luck!

The golf team coached by Dave Wise got off to a slow start this year. Having no seniors, they lacked a player with a consistently low score. All the varsity players had averages fairly close together. Although each player had at least one outstanding round, they couldn't get everyone to play well at the same time. MVP award was given to Dave Cassis. The showing they gave us this year wasn't perfect, but next year we can expect some really spectacular play with the team consisting of three seniors, two seasoned underclassmen, and a new start.

MVP, Dave Cassis chips on.

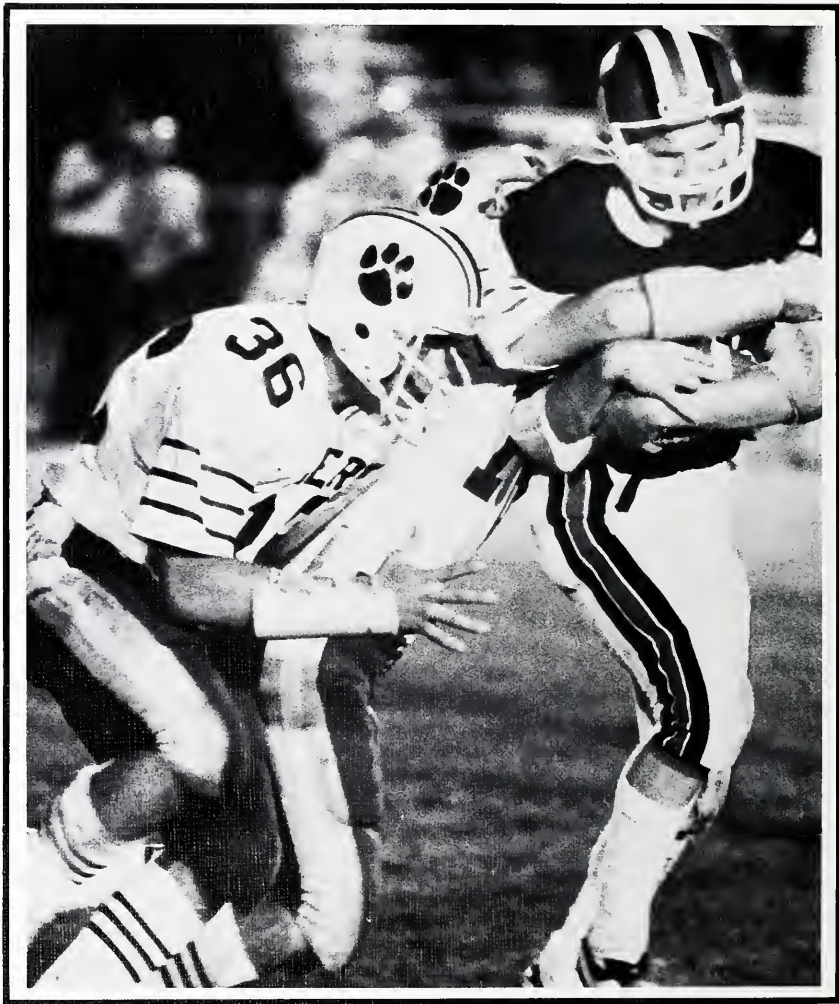

Doug Tate plays it where it lies.

Jim Humphrey follows through.

THE WONDERFUL

It takes two Panthers to handle a Titan (Mike Blankenburger).

WORLD OF

The Varsity Football Team.

DISNEY

Hut, Hut, Hike!

Success in football usually depends on experienced players. Taylor's varsity this year lacked in quantity of seniors but not in quality. MVP's Bill Damewood on the offensive line, Kevin Swain, offensive back; Mike Sumpter, defensive back; and Hal Martin, defensive line were among those who gave their all.

A difficult schedule (six teams with a 7-3 or better record) and a young team resulted in a less than successful record of 1-9. Perhaps a young team this year means more experience in the future.

The people on the lines are just as important.

SEASON RECORD: 26-3

At the close of the 1981 season, Mr. Ward had the more than usual problem of replacing seven seniors. This led to the inevitable conclusion that he would have to turn to the underclassmen to fill the roster. At the start of the season, over half of the 13 weight classes were filled by underclassmen. They were led by the eight returning lettermen.

The hard work that they exhibited paid off. They finished the season with a 12 and 2 dual meet record, and beat county rivals Western and Northwestern in the regional sending three wrestlers to the semi-state: Scott Goudy, 98; Bart Tabor, 119; and Fred Shelton, 155.

FINISHES STRONGLY

The Taylor JV basketball team ended the season by defeating Eastbrook (15-2 record) and Peru (12-7 record) on the road. This increased their record to 8-11. Coach Phares expressed satisfaction with the overall improvement in the team's performance. He identified the poor shooting statistics, 38% from the field and 46% from the foul line, as a difficulty in the year. He added that he was proud to be able to move four players up to varsity level for the sectional.

Larry goes up for two.

Freshmen

Second To One

Front Row — Candy Miller, Brenda McCoy, Rosie Amore, Tina Brack, Lisa Gulley. Second Row — David Perry, Matt Foust, Steve Phalen, Randy Davenport, David Lasbury, Bret Boruff, Chuck Beheler. Third Row — Chris Hall, Brett Weitzel, Scott Powell, Kevin Legan, Andy Keaton, Monty Sanders. Back Row — Mgr. Tim Merrit, Scott O'Brian, Doug Brock, Shannon Adams, Coach Harshman

The Freshmen basketball team fell short of a Howard County tourney championship in a close game against Western. Though the Titans managed to defeat them earlier in the season, the Panthers proved to be well-prepared for a rematch. Mr. Harshman commented that he felt this had been his most gratifying season. It's easy to see why when you look at the list of accomplishments. Defeating Northwestern twice and shooting over fifty percent from the field were high points, not to mention Coach Harshman celebrated his 100th coaching victory.

A YEAR OF FIRSTS

Titans win first M.I.C.

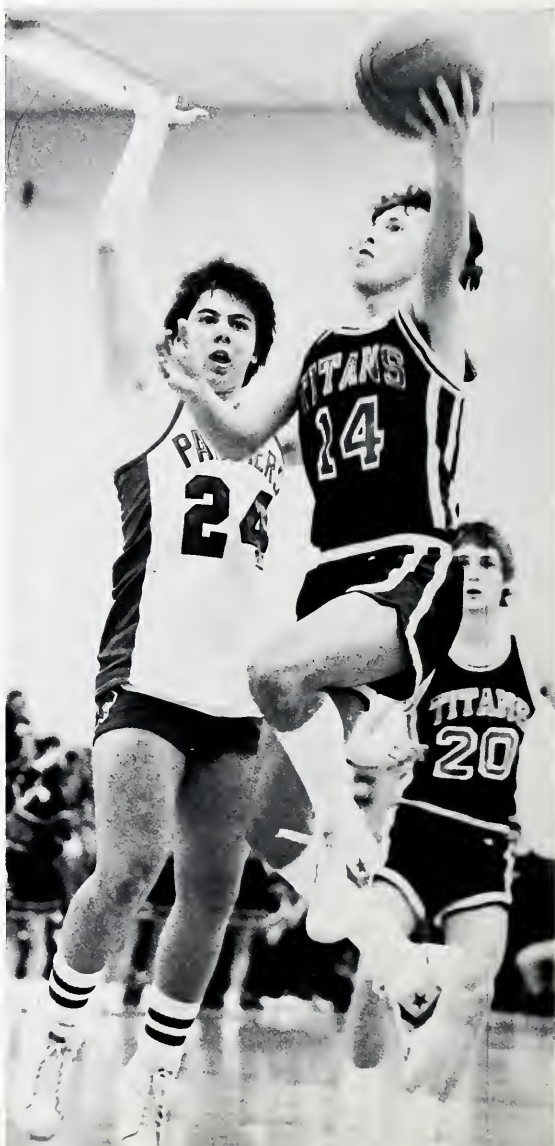

Coach Custer's varsity basketball team produced a year of first's for Taylor. Though the competition in the MIC was unusually strong, the Titans were undefeated against their MIC foes (5-0) and clearly victorious. The Titans broke or tied fifteen individual or team records: the most wins in the regular season (14), the most wins in a two year period (25), the first consecutive winning season, the most points scored in a season (1473 in 21 games), the most free throws in a season (327, old record 325 in '71-'72), the most assists in a season (329, old record 314 in '80-'81), and the most steals in one game (23 vs. Cass).

Individual records were broken by Ron Gamble for the most assists in a game (14 vs. Western); he also had the most assists in a season (183, old record 158 made by him in '80-'81) and in his career (341, old record 179 by Sam Dyche). Brian Roberts now has the current record for the best field goal percentage (60.1%) and Dwayne Dunlap tied the current record for the most steals in one game (8) against Eastern.

The sectional title seemed within reach, but even a disappointing loss in the first game against Western couldn't dim the triumph of the season.

We were proud to be a part of this year's basketball season and even prouder of the superior efforts of the '81-'82 season. The acclaim and enthusiasm brought to all of us by their accomplishments will be long remembered.

Ron Gamble soars for two at Western.

Against Tri-Central, Kevin Swain and Dwayne Dunlap apply the pressure.

Brian and Dwayne double team a Huskie.

Coach Custer kicks a free throw in for Brock.

Baseballers

Another close call against Kokomo.

Win Record 23 Games

Winning a record 23 games while losing only five was one of the many things the team and Coach Phares had to be proud of at the end of this year's baseball season. Other accomplishments included setting or tying 25 school records and finishing second in the county and MIC playoffs against 4th ranked Western. Coach Phares attributed their success to "being a bunch of hard-working, dedicated athletes who played to their potential as a team."

This unprecedented 23-5 winning season would make no other team more qualified to dedicate Taylor's new playing field. On May 25, 1982, they did just that. In a crowd of Taylor dignitaries including Supt. Bush and several board members the Titans beat Northwestern to increase their record-breaking season slate by 1.

Named to this year's 1st all-conference team were this year's MVP Doug Willis, batting champion Ron Gamble with a .400 average and junior Dwayne Dunlap. On 2nd team all-conference were fielding champion Brad Fouch with a .987 average and junior Bill Mason.

With a record-setting Titan baseball team this season, Coach Phares is very enthusiastic about the performance of the four jrs. and five soph. returning for next year.

Record Turnout

1982 saw a record number of participants answer the call for first-year coach Jerry Harshman. Taylor did finish the year with a 1-8 season slate, but one has to only scratch the surface to see that this year's tracksters turned out to be a bumper crop, indeed!

As a team, Taylor took a solid step toward respectability with strong showings in the county and conference meets. The Titans' 49 pts. and third-place finish in the Howard County meet was their best since 1977. Taylor then tallied 46 pts. to finish fifth in the MIC — the thinlies best showing since joining the conference in 1977.

The Taylor 400 meter relay team consisting of Brad Minglin (sr.), Jon Meadors (sr.), Mark Brubaker (soph.), and Shannon Adams (Fr.) gained considerable notoriety by winning the county and MIC gold medals. The team also established new Howard County mark (45.2) just missing the Tital school record.

Senior captain Brad Minglin led Taylor both on and off the field. Minglin, a four-year performer for the Titans, won the first annual pentathlon, anchored the Pole Vault relay team that won the Northwestern relays, and placed first and second in the county and conference in the pole vault. For these efforts, Minglin received the coveted MVP award.

Dan Hansen continually shaved digits off both his 1600 and 3200 meter efforts to receive the Most Improved trophy. Hansen won the county 1600 crown, won the 3200 title in the Elwood Relays and went on to become Taylor's only regional qualifier for 1982.

Bob Ritchie finished the campaign as the Titans' leading scorer (95 ½ pts.). Ritchie was a strong performer in the high hurdles and high jump just missing a bid for the high jump record in the final meet of the season. The rugged junior also tackled three new events to give Taylor a lot of all around support.

Freshman fleetfoot Shannon Adams was named the Mental Attitude award recipient giving the Titan patrons a glimpse of some good times just ahead. Adams personified what Harshman hopes the Taylor program will stand for a couple of years down the road. Shannon was always eager to work and eager to learn how to help himself and his teammates.

It isn't very hard to figure why the Titan coaches are smiling after this season. 24 Thinlies return next season in what could be the beginning of a trip to the top.

Lady Titans Have Winning Seasons

Janet Jameson goes up for the shot.

Angie Anderson looks for a teammate to set up the play.

Varsity Lady Titans gained valuable experience during their season. They strived for their winning record of ten wins and nine losses. Coach Tunmer stated that they won the games they were supposed to win but were not able to pull off any upsets.

Many of the players gained recognition by getting chosen for MIC and All-County teams. These included senior Denise Goudy and freshman Lisa Barrett. Janet Jameson, Lisa Paine, and Angie Anderson all got honorable mention.

Stat Girls: Karen Surbey, Nanette Spencer, Lynn Smith, Sharon Surbey, Jill Burke.

Young leadership led the junior varsity squad to a winning season of eight wins and six losses. The team consisted of three sophomores and seven freshmen. Four players of the J.V. also dressed for varsity; they were Chris Humphrey, Kim Moore, Sharon Hurn, and Judy Ingels. This limited their playing time on the J.V. to only two quarters.

Each girl contributed to the winning season. Tashia Johnson was the season's leading scorer, and according to Coach Hoyson, all the girls did a great job.

Denise Goudy and Angie Anderson smother opponent for the ball.

Taylor volleyball had a rough season last year coming away with a 4-10 record. Though they did not have a winning season, varsity coach Gibson said, "The group worked hard and showed a lot of determination."

Coaches Gibson and Hoyson pointed out that one of the things an overall season record does not show is how close some of the games were. "When the girls lost a close one, it was frustrating, but their overall attitude was a positive one."

Denise Goudy and Janet Jameson were selected for MIC second team with Jill Paine and Diana Rice having honorable mention.

Girls golf: (Row 1) S. Humphrey, C. Humphrey, D. Duex, Coach N. Johnson. (Row 2) K. Moore, J. Westerfield, P. Johnson, J. Stonebraker, B. McHale.

Last year's golf team had a great 9-4 season. One of those wins was the final game of the Howard County Tourney. The girls proved that they could work together as a team by beating rivals Kokomo, Haworth, and Northwestern to become the new champions.

Coach Johnson stated that the golfers did many things well and improved each time they played. She was especially glad to see the girls do so well at the away meets, since they only had one meet at home.

Medalist winners for Taylor last year were seniors, Julie Stonebraker, 46 average; Peggy Johnson, 47 average; sophomores, Chris Humphrey, 46 average; Beth McHale, 46 average.

Chris Humphrey gives it her all!

I'll make it, don't worry! (Jill Westerfield)

GYMNASTICS

The 1982 girls gymnastics team was one of the best ever at Taylor High School. The 17 team members turned out the best record in the history of Taylor gymnastics. Gymnastics is one of the largest sports for women in the United States, and the girls at Taylor are getting more and more serious about their gymnastics futures. Some are looking forward to scholarships and college competition. Shelly Welke was awarded M.V.P.

During the summer of 1981 Coach Margie (Addison) Lea held a Gymnastics Clinic which 202 students attended. The clinic helped raise $1800 which was used to purchase new equipment.

Girls Tracksters Win County Tourney

The girls' track team had an outstanding season, winning the Howard County Tourney and placing third in the Mid-Indiana Conference meet. Coach Shanks said, "Each girl did her part, thus contributing more depth to the team." The varsity finished its season with a 6-4 record.

Two county records were smashed by fine Taylor performances. Janet Jameson broke the discus record with a throw of 99'-6". The 800-Meter relay team of Judy Ingels, Lisa Barrett, Denise Bolinger, and Jan Sturtz, beat the record with a 1:54.0 clocking. Other great performances came from Cheryl Harmon, Kara Huneck, Tashia Johnson, Kristen Sisk, Michelle Tragesser, and Angie Wilson.

Coach Shanks thought the key to their successful season was "a winning attitude they carried from practice to meets." The team also concentrated on working as a team rather than emphasizing individual events.

Judy Ingels finishes her season by breaking the high jump record.

Jan Sturtz comes around the 200-Meter turn to finish first for Taylor.

Tennis Anyone?

This year's girls' tennis team had some rewarding moments and good times, but the win-loss record was a disappointing 3-8. According to Coach Sellars, the competition was rough and rain-outs of key matches hurt the record for the team which contained much talent and 5 returning lettermen.

The M.V.P. award went to senior Brenda Layden. A mental attitude award was received by Denise Goudy, and the Most Improved was presented to Chris Humphrey.

Next season's team will have 6 returning lettermen and hopes for a great season.

The J.V. tennis team had a winning season with a 5-4 record. According to Mrs. Sellars, several J.V. players are expected to challenge for varsity spots next year. "Playing good tennis requires wanting to accept challenge and working to improve skills."

Cheerleading involves spirit, yelling, cheering and preparing for pep sessions. It's a lot of hard work but this year the girls all worked together. In the summer, varsity and jr. varsity cheerleaders went to camp. They received the only spirit stick awarded for the cheerleaders with the most spirit. There were a total of 29 cheerleaders in all. The Rally Squad went to camp also for the first time. During the season, all 29 cheerleaders held a pep session which took much time and patience for everything to be organized.

Although there was the problem of losing two very good cheerleaders and adding two, it seemed to work out fine for the rest of the season.

Jr. High Football Improves Record

Having a winning season was the 7th grade football team's goal. For the first time in several years the 7th grade won more than they lost. Each player contributed toward a good team effort.

The outstanding defensive unit shut out the opposition in 3 out of 6 games. The highlight of the season was beating Western 12-8 in the last game of the season. The cross-country rival had beaten Taylor earlier by a 42-8 count.

Last year in 8th grade football a goal was set to improve from last year's record of 1-5. According to Mr. Ward, the team made a great deal of improvement over the course of the season. The players came together and played as a team. Mr. Ward claimed that the major problem of the team was their lack of depth, though they are hoping to improve in the oncoming year. Mr. Ward was pleased at the offensive effort of lineman Karl Willis and back Bob Burns. Defensive lineman Mike Guinn and linebacker Kris Karns were outstanding. The team's season record ended at 2-4.

JR. HIGH CROSS COUNTRY SETS NEW RECORDS!

Hinkle avoids tree at Taylor's home meet.

The Jr. High Cross-Country team's goal was to lower each runner's time in each succeeding race. Many of the runners lowered their times significantly during the season. Coach Keck stated that the runners showed enthusiasm and that the team worked hard throughout the season.

The 2-8 win-loss record was attributed to the lack of experience as no runner had returned from the previous year's team.

The outstanding runner for the 7th grade was Darin Corne who set a Taylor record at 10:56 in the 5000 meter.

Scott Sturtz will be an excellent addition to the high school cross-country team as he set a Taylor course record at 11:05.

Coach Keck is looking for better things next year with 7 runners returning.

VOLLEY- BALL

Keeping a close watch on the ball, Kathy Duex follows through on a return to her opponent.

The 8th grade volleyball team had an almost perfect 8-1 record. Coach Shanks was able to utilize the players hard work and excellent attitude to mold the girls into a coachable unit. The goal set was to have a perfect service game, and the team had special workouts to try to achieve it. The girls planned to carry their chants used during the season to next year's team.

The main goal of the 7th grade volleyball team was to acquire knowledge of the rules and learn the basic skills. Maintaining a positive attitude through a two win, seven loss season is not easy, but Coach Kinney had Kelly Brockman, Debbie Duex, Vallerie Landrem, Sharon Humphrey, and the rest of the girls believing they were going to win each match that they played.

The 8th grade boys' basketball team showed improvement from last year's record. They won four games and of the ten losses, five were by five points or less. The highlight of the season, according to Coach Spitler, was beating eventual county tourney champion, Northwestern 28-27. Although physically over-matched in most games, Ryan Shrock, John Grider, and Mike Tarr were competitive with their larger opponents and played well.

The 7th grade basketball team, which was extremely small, showed a great deal of hustle all season. Although the team ended with a two win, 11 loss record, they were able to master fundamental skills that would allow them to improve as they move through the Taylor basketball program. Coach Keck stated that the highlight was the four overtimes in a game with Westfield which unfortunately they lost by one point. Players that Coach Keck indicated had made an outstanding effort were John Ault, Darin Corne, Shawn Fain, David Lummm, Shane Sims, and Brian Tate.

DEFEATS COUNTY RIVALS

The jr. high wrestling team had fun with an excellent 5-1 record. Coaches Gregory and Ward's season was highlighted by wins over county rivals Northwestern and Western. Kris Karns, Brian Cardwell, Bob Bator, and Jim Frye had a fine season, and the 8th graders should be good wrestlers for Taylor High School.

Thrill of Victory, Bob Bator defeats his Western opponent.

Hands Up to Kris Karns after winning his match.

A County Tourney Championship capped off an 8-1 season for the 7th grade Lady Titans. The basketball team was led by Debbie Duex and Kelly Goodnight. The group is very determined and has much potential stated Coach Gibson.

The 8th grade girls' basketball team improved on last year's record by finishing 4 and 4. Angie Debusk and Jamie McConnell were the leading scorers with Kathy Duex, Anita Newburg, and Terri Martin all having a fine year as indicated by Coach Disney.

Jr. High Track

The 7th and 8th grade boys' track teams both ended with two win, two loss records. The team improved in personal performances as the season progressed. Andy Kindley cleared nine feet in the pole vault in the last meet of the season. Tim Wilson scored first consistently in the long jump and ran the 100-200 meter dash effectively. Bob Burns remained undefeated throughout the season reaching a distance of 130 feet in the discus. Ken Mulett and B.J. White placed first or second in the shot put, while team mate Dave Lumm was outstanding in the long jump, high jump, and low hurdles. Coach Atkins was also pleased with the 400 relay team as they set a new school record of 50.4 seconds.

The girls' track team finished with one win, four losses, and one tie. The bright side of the season was that 39 girls competed in at least one event per meet. The team finished a respectable 4th at the Tipton Relays which was the highlight of the season according to Coach Weber.

The goal for the jr. high golf team was to improve their scores as a team throughout the season. As the year progressed, the golfers did show improvement according to Coach Conner. The overall best score was earned in a five team tournament which closed out the season with three wins and three losses. The squad finished a fine second place in the tournament with Mike Guinn and Brian Tate leading the way for the Titans.

Having the overall best average for the season, Randy Johnson sets up to stroke one in. 7th grader Ritchie Fruth looks ahead.

82 Academics

It's Sunday night already; why is it that the hours of the weekend always fly by so quickly? It seems like it was only a few hours ago when I sat in government class counting the minutes, thinking, "If only I can make it through the next half hour, I'll be free at last!"

Where did the weekend go? I guess some time was spent at the game Friday night. Then after the game, and Saturday night, countless hours were spent cruising Lafountain, going to McDonald's, and sitting in Hill's parking lot. Every weekend seems to be spent this way — a carload of guys or girls, with the music turned up full blast, all hoping to meet someone, to add a little excitement to the weekend. What usually happens though, is that all the time is spent talking with people who have been friends for years. It might all sound pretty dull, but I suppose the continual search to meet someone special and just being with friends really is what makes it exciting.

Well, now there's a whole new week to make it through until Friday night will return. For now, I suppose the stack of homework-filled books on my desk will have to help me to pass the time.

A NEW SCHOOL ?

No, it is still Taylor High School, but it has changed. The face-lifting was long overdue. Having the gymnasium repainted, refinishing the floor, and adding new lockers and paint in the halls have been appreciated by the students. The new bleachers and press box for the football field have bettered this athletic area. Refinishing the tennis courts and adding night lights there have resulted in having a good game of tennis even if the sun is not shining. The total reconstruction of the baseball field means the Titans now have a good home. These improvements, and others like them from previous years, have done much to make Taylor a better school facility.

Although Taylor has lacked technical equipment, new and better materials have been added to aid in instruction and learning.

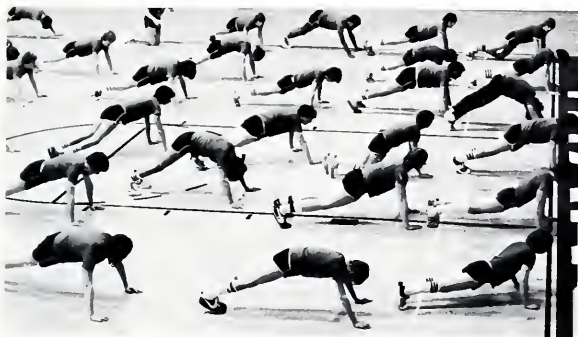

The students appreciate the efforts of Dr. Frank Bush, Superintendent of the Taylor Community School; Dr. James Rice, Assistant Superintendent; Mr. Donald Edmonds, Taylor High School Principal; and the Taylor Community School Board of Trustees in making these improvements.

With the new look at Taylor come the hopes of Taylor's being accredited by the North Central Association. Acceptance into the NCA looks more than promising. This will do much to increase the pride students have in Taylor High School.

LET'S GET PHYSICAL

Push-ups or gymnastics? You tell me.

The bowling alley, baseball diamond, basketball court, golf course, football field, tennis court, and volleyball court all serve as locations for physical education classes at Taylor High School. Teachers in this department strive constantly to meet the needs of students. Strength and physical fitness, social education, recreational interests, and mental health are vital considerations when classes are conducted.

Teachers serving on the physical education staff include Jon Custer, Steve Disney, Joretta Gibson, and Elizabeth Hoyson.

Coach Disney gives the day's instructions before his class starts.

Preparing household budgets, purchasing food and clothing, taking care of children, cooking, sewing, and learning good nutrition are some of the topics studied in the home economics department. The teaching is centered on preparing students for efficient home management. Diversified classes result in students' receiving instruction that is both interesting and educational. Although the classes are electives, students find them beneficial.

The home economics department staff members are the following: Jerilyn Bellinger, Donna Gregory, Wanda Hoover, Judy Moore, and Charlotte Nulf.

On antipasto day the faculty receives a free meal courtesy of Mrs. Moore.

LANGUAGES

The French class samples new food in a cultural experience.

Samantha Lively and Carrie Abner never have a dull moment in Spanish class.

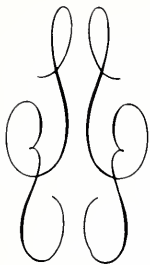

Donna Freeman enjoys putting the finishing touches on Beth Munson's Spanish mustache.

English is a mandatory subject at Taylor. From the time students begin school until they leave, their teachers continuously attempt to get them to try to improve their use of the English language. Even though it may not be the most popular area of learning, it is definitely the most necessary and valuable. Being able to communicate effectively with people is vital. English at Taylor is more than learning correct punctuation, usage, or sentence structure. It is learning to speak and write effectively, increasing vocabulary, reading to improve knowledge and understanding, and appreciating literature. It is an opportunity to learn skills that will be useful in speaking and writing throughout life.

For the students who desire an extra challenge in languages, French and Spanish are available. Classes begin with learning basic words, using these words, and building skills. The first year is the most difficult because everything is new and different. Those who take more than one year of a foreign language discover it is fun. Besides using the textbook, students hear tapes, read books and write stories. Those who work hard may become fluent in writing and speaking a second or third language. Mrs. Louise Inman and Mrs. Darlene Henderson, foreign language teachers, almost become second parents when they strive to teach their students. Being able to put the languages to practical use is not difficult with Mexico and Canada so close.

Speaking a second language is a plus for any person when the world seems to be getting smaller every day.

During the second semester, a Young Author's Conference was held at Western High School. Dan Baldridge, Carol Bator, Terry Boes, Dana Corbit, Kathy Snyder, Chuck Tragesser, Keith Wilkins, Shiela Williams, Phil Wise, and Lori Whittaker were the Taylor High School students who participated. From that conference comes the following creative writing by Carol Bator.

I am Gonoka. My name means crow, and that is what I am. Not an ordinary cornfield crow, mind you. I was born on a mystical, enchanted island far — But wait! I wasn't born; I was hatched. Oh well, that was a long time ago. Anyhow, I figure that if some old mouse can write some story called BEN AND ME, and get it published, I with my superior intelligence, should have no trouble at all. Besides, my mother was a troll woman called Gretchen. She was well known for story telling. I can still hear her in my mind as she begins a tale:

In a time very long ago,
In a place very far away,
Deep in a vast grassy meadow,
The star-chaser was born one day,
And by another name was known.
Within him dwelt a restless soul;
Which sought release when he was grown.
It set for him a mighty goal,
To leave the prisons of the past,
And seek the secrets of each star.
Then when the end should come at last,
He will have traveled very far.
Hear and heed this tale of his test,
The song of the star-chaser's quest.

His restless soul would have no sleep.
The moonless sky was dark and deep.
Lit only by those tiny lights;
So very small and far away . . .

"The stars can speak," some men do say.
What tales await these ears of mine?
What power can bid the stars to shine;
When all around is deathly dark?
I listen for your call, and Hark!
I hear your whispered shout, you speak!

'Come adventurer, come and seek . . . '

You guide the lost and lead the brave.
Take me far from my father's grave,
And bring me into lands unknown,
All places where the wind has blown."

But only death could bring him peace.
For though he traveled place to place,
From the past he found no release,
Memories he could not erase.

BEOWULF is being discussed in Mrs. Fligor's English Literature class today.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The industrial arts program is an important part of the Taylor curriculum. The objectives of industrial arts are more than training potential electricians or professional wood turners. Giving students a basic idea of the field to see if this is the kind of work they would enjoy is the primary goal in industrial arts' teaching. When a student discovers a field he likes, he may continue with more advanced classes to refine skills. A wide range of classes is offered at Taylor. Courses include auto mechanics, electricity, metals, masonry ... and, of course ... the ever popular woods class.

Larry Patmore gets a little advice from the expert.

Dwayne Dunlap and Ron Depew show off their trapezoid.

Bill Parker fixes the cutting machine in printing class.

ART

Classes offered in the art department at Taylor are not for just anyone. To be completely successful in some, special artistic ability is necessary. Being an "A" student in other classes is no guarantee of success in art. Having talent is the key. Art has played an important role in cultural development throughout history. Whether a student likes sculpturing, sketching, or participating in any other form of art, Taylor has courses which help students build basic artistic skills and appreciate the aesthetic values.

Art is not all painting. How is this for unusual?

This is just a portion of the 1982 art show at Taylor High.

MATH

Taylor's mathematics department is one of the strongest in the county. Courses range from the basic high school math to the more sophisticated calculus. Algebra, geometry, algebra 3, trigonometry, college algebra, analytic geometry, and calculus are taught by Mrs. Sue Deason. Mr. George Phares teaches algebra and high school math. Classes in geometry and computer science are instructed by Mrs. Carolyn Henry. Mr. Phil Spitler teaches algebra. Contrary to most opinions, if a student has a desire to learn any of these courses, the teaching staff can make learning relatively easy. Students with problems or in need of extra help can usually find a teacher who can give needed assistance before or after school.

For the student who asks, "When am I ever going to use math?" there is a quick answer when college or every day life is faced. Even if a student doesn't use math skills every day, at least he has been taught skills needed to reason and work out problems more logically. The basic principles of math don't always have to apply to numbers. They can be used in any kind of reasoning. This is why math is so very important in a student's background.

Mathematics is a growing part of today's society. Taylor is keeping far ahead of the pace with the variety of courses offered in its math department.

Brad Coon puts a simple half-page problem on the board (top left). Mr. Phares passes back the day's homework (left center). Mrs. Henry puts her sixth hour class to the limit with notes (bottom left).

HONORS' DAY

Dixie Bayliff is given the English Award from Mr. Short as the faculty looks on.

Honors' Day is a day set aside for the outstanding students of Taylor High to be recognized. The heads of all departments present awards to the best students in that field. Students do not have to have the best grades in the class because awards can go to the most improved student or to one who aids his fellow classmates. Awards are also given for perfect attendance. Awards are presented only to those students who have earned the honor, and the faculty hopes that other students will try harder to follow the examples of the honor students.

1982 HELIO STAFF

The uniqueness of the yearbook staff as an organization stems from the fact that the purpose for their existence is to produce a final product — a publication — that will be eagerly examined by most of Taylor's student and adult population. This book will be one of the few relics of high school life that will probably be kept forever for many fond (and not so fond) reminiscences (and memory checks) to come.

Not being professional copy writers, editors, photographers, advertisers, or even yearbook staff members, students who participate in yearbook have much to learn and do. When the year is over, — finally — these students have a working knowledge of many facets of the publishing world. Never again will they peruse a magazine or even scan an encyclopedia without an awareness of the hours of thought, decision-making and, most of all, labor that preceded its publication.

This year's staff had a new advisor in myself and was lucky to have as its editor-in-chief, Dixie Bayliff and many other past members who could be depended on to provide much needed assistance and advice. Most of the staff members worked hard to fulfill their obligations and are deserving of my personal regard and thanks.

Mr. Slaughter in his role as photography instructor was always helpful and generous with the use of his darkroom. We thank all the Taylor staff who provided necessary information and support when we needed it.

ONLOOKER

The Onlooker Staff spent another year keeping the Taylor students informed as to all the happenings at their school. The paper was published several times over the school year and was something that the student body all looked forward to.

The purpose of a newspaper class goes beyond the publication itself. Staffers learned journalistic writing styles and proper coverage as well as editing, interviewing, and proof reading.

Todd Pickard acted for the second year as the editor-in-chief. Although the job required a lot of hard work, he handled his position very well. Todd and the other members of the staff were advised by Mrs. Donelson.

Reporter Doug Tate is always hard at work on his journalism skills. (?)

Twenty-eight new members were initiated last year into the National Honor Society. These students were being recognized for all their hard work over the years.

To become a member of N.H.S., a person has to have at least a B average, but there are many other factors that are considered. A member has to be active in school, participating in clubs, class activities, or sports.

Another qualification for becoming a member is to have good character and show leadership qualities. Past teachers were asked if they thought potential members displayed these qualities, and if they had a reason why a person should not be initiated.

A few weeks after the initiation, the new and old members were treated to a dinner in Noblesville. Mark Lasbury led the club as president, Pat Fines was vice-president, David Pogue acted as treasurer, and Pam Hodge was secretary.

Initiates anxiously await the start of the ceremony.

Mrs. Steiner once again sponsored the History Club. The History Club needed someone with her fun-loving personality to be in charge of all the activities the club took part in.

This organization was on the go. In the fall, the group went to the Feast of the Hunter's Moon in Lafayette. Then in the spring they took a long weekend trip to the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tennessee.

During the school year, the club sold concessions at ball games and sold donuts in the morning to help pay for their activities. The officers of the group were Tim Sugar, president; Bill Parrott, vice-president; Liz Barnard, secretary; and Jeff Malkoff, treasurer.

TAYLOR VISIT THE

Once again the Taylor history club took their annual trip. This year the home economics club joined them on their way to Knoxville, Tennessee, for the World's Fair.

After a year of selling concessions at ball games and selling donuts in the morning to raise money, they were off for their three and a half day trip. The club rode all night in Indiana Motor coach buses until they arrived at the Howard Johnson's only 10 minutes from the fairgrounds.

When they arrived at the fair, they visited many exhibits including pavilions from several different countries.

A farris wheel enjoyed by the history and home ec. clubs at the World's Fair.

The gang's all here!

One feature that the club found interesting was the Sun Sphere. The Sun Sphere contained five stories of dining rooms and an observation floor at the top. These five stories were in a sphere shape and were made of glass covered in 24 karat gold dust.

After going through pavilions, the group rode on the Northern Hemisphere's largest riverboat. They also visited the midway, went on rides, and played games.

The last night they stayed until closing at 10:30 for a fireworks presentation. Then in the morning they had a last swim and headed for home.

Thespians Play On

The Taylor thespians kept busy last year by performing three plays. In the fall, the group put on the play- "The Egg and I". "Keep the Home Fires Burning" was performed for the elementary school during the Christmas season and in the spring the group put on "The Importance of Being Earnest".

Three seniors tied for the honor of being named Outstanding Thespian. The three were Laura Culross, Kim Irick, and Lora Miller.

The club's leaders were Lora Miller, president; Joe Wittig, first vice-president; Steve Edmonds, second vice-president; Kathy Trimble, secretary, and Kim Irick, treasurer.

Choir

Rozi Cage, Donna Freeman, and Kim Irick show off plaques choir and High School band won at contest.

The high school choir had a good year. They won a Superior rating at the Indiana State School Music Association Contest, and the band received a Good rating in the contest.

"We have a young choir, which shows that the years to come should be much better," said Kim Irick, pianist. Donna Freeman had this to say about the choir, "The Freshmen had a lot of weight to carry, and I think they did it exceptionally well. I'm impressed by their talent." Choir director, Charles Rose was also impressed. "This choir was one of the best we've had. Everyone has worked very hard, and I am extremely proud of them." Rozi Cage had these encouraging words about band, "We did the best ever in Marching band; we received a Division 1 and an Outstanding Inspection."

Varsity Club

Taylor Varsity Club

Last year was the first year for Taylor to have a varsity club. The club was made up of members of athletic teams who had earned at least one varsity letter. Sponsor, Jerry Harshman explained, "The basic idea of the club was to bring the members of different sports together." The elected officers were Jon Meadors, Pres.; Mike Sumpter, Vice Pres.; Cathleen Stewart, Sec.; Charlotte Curry, Treas.

The highlight of the club's year was when they went to a Pacer's basketball game. They held a raffle in order to make the money for this trip.

The club did not get quite as much accomplished as they would have liked because of the confusion of the first year and the problems they had in scheduling meetings around all the sporting events. However, many of the club members thought that the club could be a success. Suzanne Cummings and Janet Jameson agreed that they had a good time at the Pacer's game and that they were looking forward to the next year because they believed that the addition of new members would make it more fun.

President Jon Meadors said that he hoped the club would continue because he thought that the basic idea was a good one. He also added, "The club gave the athletes a chance to get to know one another and to participate in several recreational activities together."

As I sat in the audience watching the Spring Follies, I wished that I had the talent of the people in front of me and the guts they had to get up and use it. I was really glad that my school student council put forth the effort to put on such a show so that my talented peers had the opportunity to show what they could do.

Putting on the spring follies meant a lot of hard work for the members of the Student Council and their sponsor Mr. Jones, but that wasn't all they did. The club was also in charge of the Homecoming activities. They had to decide on a theme, make rules for the hall decorating contest, and do all the work involved in the queen coronation. Besides all of that, they also were in charge of putting on the post-game homecoming dance.

To add to their list of services to the school, the group made a suggestion box for the high school office. They also helped out in the drive for the new Titan.

The leaders of the club were president, Cathleen Stewart; vice-president, Tim Sugar; and secretary, Jenny Gotshall.

The Art Club was very active last year. They did a lot to brighten up our school, including such things as decorating the front lobby windows for Christmas and creative eye-catching bulletin boards.

Money-making projects were a big help for the art club's other activities. Last year they sponsored the first annual Mr. Legs Contest. Pictures were displayed in the student lounge. Students cast their votes by placing a penny a vote for their favorite legs. Mr. Connors was the recipient of this honor.

The highlight of the year for the Home Ec. Club was a three day trip with the History Club to the World's Fair in Tennessee.

Some successful money-making projects were the selling of carnations for sectionals and Valentine's Day, and the selling of pizza mixes. They also catered the Honor Society reception. It seemed to be a busy year for a busy group.

Alpha-Omega Club Active County-wide

Alpha Omega: (Row 1) Barb Lamb, Lynnette Myers, Pat Fines, Stasha Mason, Diana Rice, (Row 2) Mr. Taylor, Deana Rust, Carol Bator, Jay Criss, Mrs. Wigman.

Alpha Omega is a fairly new club, but it has good attendance and is active in after-school activities. They had a skating party and had their usual 7:15 A.M. meeting on Wednesday, which in itself is a great accomplishment considering the time they would have to get up to make the meetings. They also participated in county-wide Fellowship of Christian Athletes and other students' groups' activities.

Three clubs teach students about other countries.

Miss Buell sponsored the Foreign Exchange Club again last year. The club was a very active one, but it had several hard working students to lead the club. Cathleen Stewart acted as the club's president; Bill Parrott was first vice-president; Lora Miller was second vice-president; Laura Culross held the position of secretary; Steve Edmonds was treasurer; and the reporter was Kim Irick.

The club's big event was their foreign exchange week. During this week, many activities took place including having foreign exchange students from other schools come to Taylor for a day. The group also held an international progressive dinner.

One member of the club hosted an exchange student. Sophomore Joe Wittig had Takayasu Tsukamoto, from Japan, stay with him for the year.

FRENCH

Parlez vous Francais? Well, if you don't, chances are that you missed out on a lot of the fun had by members of the French Club last year.

The French people have long been known for their fine pastries, so it only made sense that the French Club would try a few out. They held a Patisserie Party in which they were able to enjoy eight different French pastries.

At Christmas time, they went caroling, singing all the songs in French. Also during the school year, they went bowling with the Spanish Club.

The French club was able to experience fine French food at a restaurant in Carmel called the Glass Chimney. They raised the money for this by selling candy bars.

At the end of the year, the club honored the seniors with a party, where they received T-shirts and certificates. The club members also presented the officers with gifts at this party. The club officers were Cathleen Stewart, president; Leslie Harland, vice-president; Barb Lamb, treasurer; Kim Irick, secretary; and Ann Jewell, social chairman.

In return for the party, the seniors held a surprise party at their last meeting. At this meeting, they presented to the club a silk flower arrangement and a candle with "Le Cercle Francais" (French Club) on it.

Mrs. Henderson, French Club sponsor.

Leslie Harland, French Club vice-president.

Cathleen Stewart kept busy by being president of both Foreign Exchange and French Club.

SPANISH

Last year's Spanish Club kept busy with many activities, ranging from going bowling to a trip to Mexico. Mrs. Inman sponsored this group and Donna Freeman was president.

The club was able to enjoy two dinners out. They went to Indianapolis and visited Mexican restaurants, Pepe's and El Torito's.

A highlight of the group's year was designing their own club shirts. With the help of Mrs. Chaffee, they designed Spanish Club emblems and had them placed in white on red sweaters. Another fun activity planned by the club was a love letter writing contest. For their February meeting, each member had to write a love letter in Spanish in order to enter the meeting.

Over the school year, they made money by selling candy. This money helped to partially pay for some students' fees on a trip to Mexico. A few of the club's members, along with a few teachers, planned to visit Mexico City, Guadalajara, Guanajuato, San Miguel de Allende, and Puerto Vallarta over the summer.

The Spanish Club seemed to have a very successful year. They managed to combine learning with fun, a task that is often not easy to accomplish.

Spanish Club: C. Polston, J. Ramos, E. Snider, C. Abner. 2nd row: S. Campbell, K. Ott, K. Horne, M. Long, S. Anderson, L. Myers, C. Abner, S. Campbell, C. Miller. 3rd row: T. Sokalowski, M. Parson, T. Laffin, T. McDonough, J. Greeman, J. McDonough, A. Summers, A. Monroe. Back: Mrs. Inman, C. Edwards, K. Snyder, T. Parker, D. Freeman, J. Laurance, K. Sisk, D. Halton, M. Jewell.

82 People

As spring break nears, we all count the days till we can sleep in and go out every night. A break from homework, the pressure from teachers, the thought of just getting away from school for a week or two lures us. But it never fails, our break finally gets here, and for the first few days it's great being able to do what we want. By the end of the week, we run out of things to do and start counting the days before we go back to school where we can be with our friends and have some fun.

Our senior year arrives. It's the main thing students wait for, the last year of school. But by the time it gets here, we realize all the responsibilities of the future and the people we will no longer see. We start to wish our senior year could last a little longer. But as time passes and that big day draws near, excitement builds. Graduation, that big day we've been looking forward to for so many years, is upon us ... and gone.

The juniors made a break with tradition this year when they planned the prom at Lake Freeman on a boat called the Madam Carroll. Tradition held in other ways, though. No junior year would be complete without the magazine sale, which had more than the usual share of problems with Kokomo's economic conditions.

The usual concessions were sold to provide extra support. During Homecoming week, juniors, after a hard struggle, lost 6-0 to the seniors in the annual Powder puff game.

This year's junior class officers were president, Pat Clester; vice president, Bill Parrott; secretary, Suzanne Cummings; treasurer, Jeff Malkoff.

The sophomores made themselves noticed around school this year. During Homecoming week they won first place in the hall decorations with their theme, Heavenly Titans vs. the burning Argyles. During basketball season their enthusiasm earned them the spirit stick award. A cold winter and good crowds at the games increased the income from the coat checks. The sophomore class was ably led this year by officers as follows: president, Liz Barnard; vice president, Carrie Abner (replaced by Marsha Damewood); secretary, Debbie Irby; and treasurer, Karen Ott.

The freshmen entered high school with a lot of excitement and spirit. They were really determined and met most of their goals.

During Homecoming week, the freshmen put a lot of effort in the week's activities. As a result of their hard work, they came in second place in the hall decorations, and the mighty "Gary's Go Fors" defeated the sophomores in the powderpuff game 14-12.

Congratulations to the freshman class on a successful first year of high school.
